

Celebrating 30 Years!

TETON REGIONAL LAND TRUST

1990 - 2020

Original 30th Anniversary Art by Aimee Babneau

Celebrating a Generation of Conservation

Driggs Elementary School 4th Graders at a Swan Release on a restored and protected wetland.

The inspiration for the Teton Regional Land Trust came from a small group of community members who recognized this cherished landscape with its unique agricultural character and vibrant wildlife populations was at risk.

The Teton Valley Land Trust was founded in 1990, and upon merging with the Fremont Heritage Trust a few years later, became the Teton Regional Land Trust.

Early efforts concentrated on protecting critical habitat and productive farms and ranches in Teton Valley. The Land Trust expanded protection efforts to include six eastern Idaho counties (Bonneville, Clark, Fremont, Jefferson, Madison, and Teton) and portions of Teton County, Wyoming. The Land Trust is a professionally accredited organization that has worked with hundreds of landowners and conservation partners to protect over 36,000 acres between 1990 and 2020. The Land Trust has successfully conserved some of the most irreplaceable habitats, migration corridors, and working lands of the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem.

In honor of the community that came together to make our work possible, we presented a special series of 30th Anniversary awards along with our annual Ed Hill Conservation Award. This award acknowledges the contribution of individuals and groups to the conservation of east Idaho. For our 30th Anniversary, this award was given to our conservation easement grantors, highlighting the importance of individual landowners for their contribution to the cumulative conservation of some of our region's most treasured lands and waterways. To learn more about the people, places, and partnerships that have brought our mission to life over the last 30 years, visit our website.

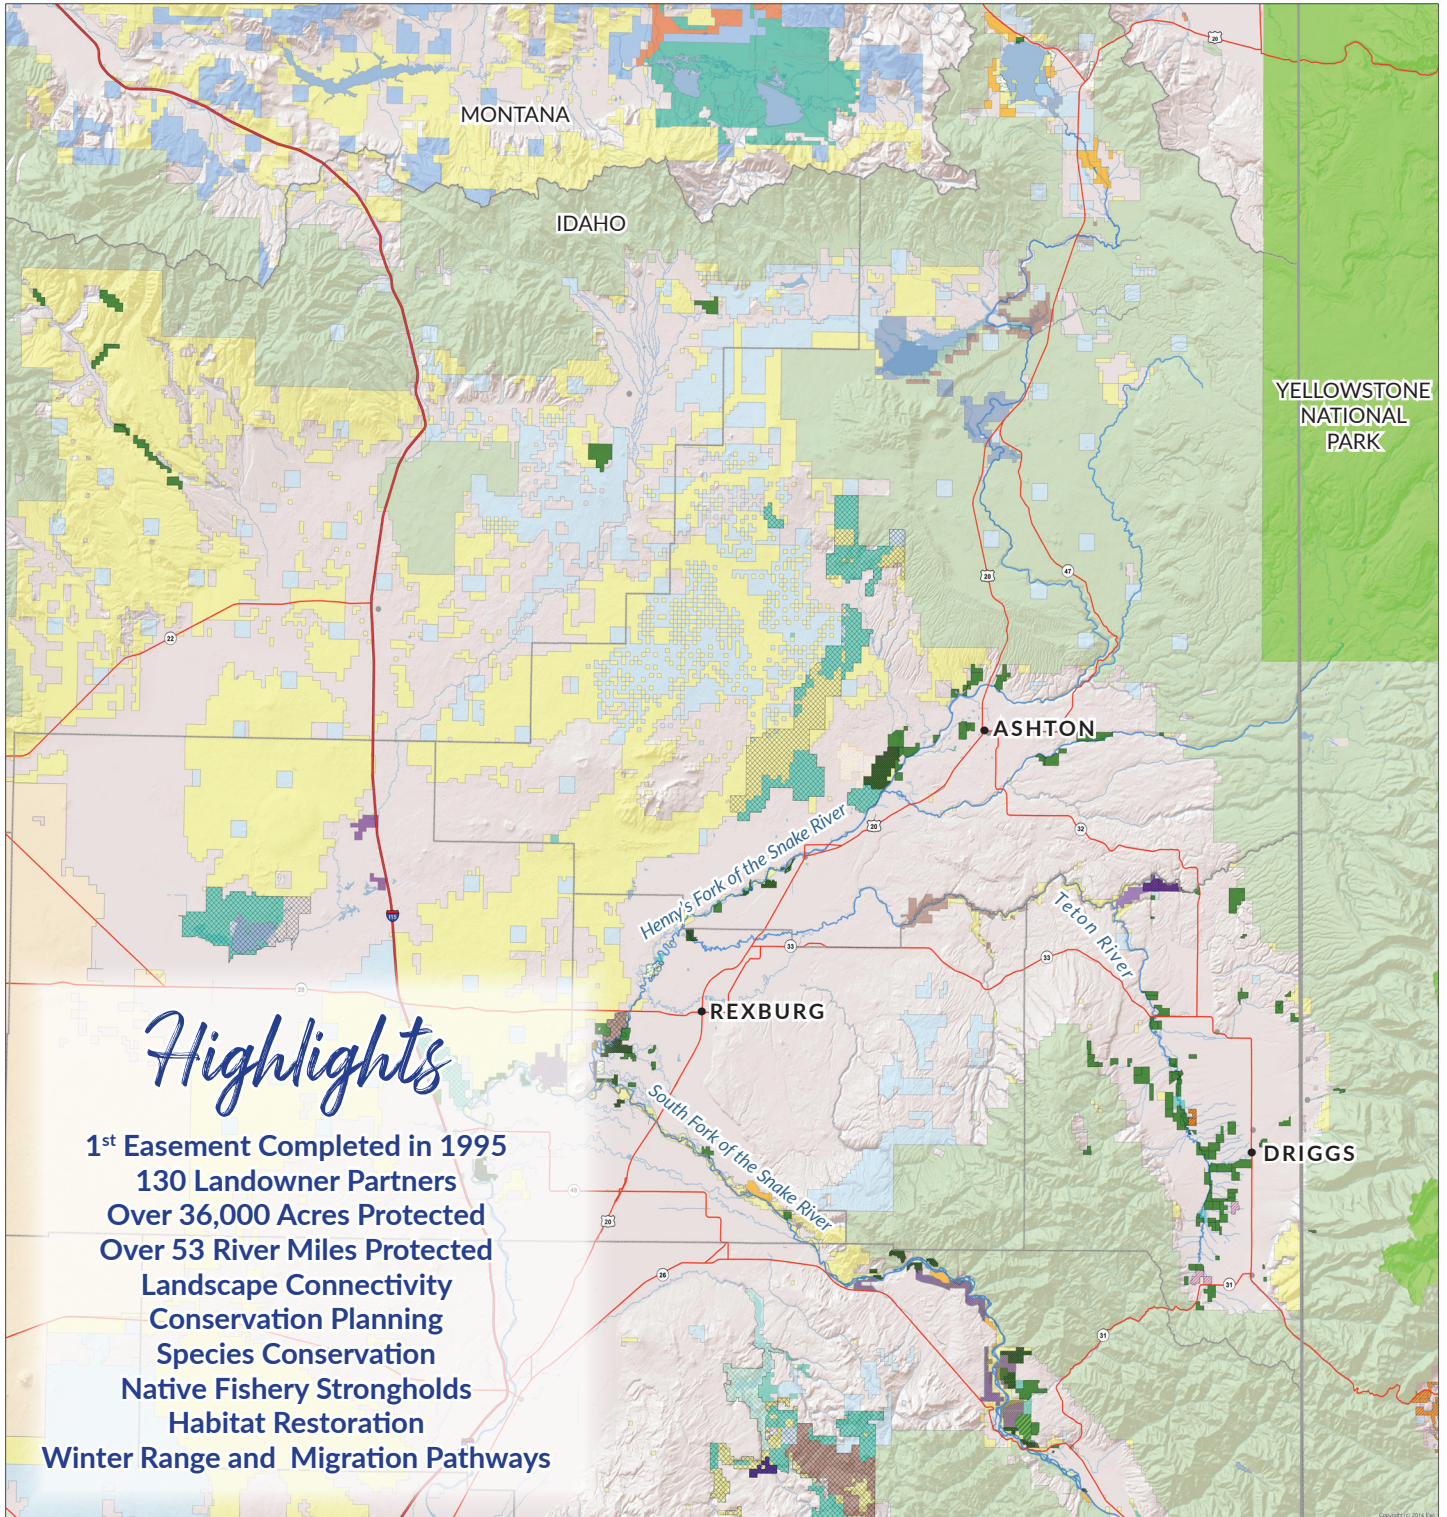

Looking forward, we remain committed to conserving important working lands and wildlife habitat of the Greater Yellowstone. As our region becomes more and more of a destination, it is as important as ever to ensure our quality of life is passed onto the next generation to enjoy and experience. Thank you for your support of our work and your dedicated investment in our region's future.
